ORDER AUTOPSY UPON WOMAN IN BOSTON TRAGEDY

Fiance Held For Shooting
Man Whom He Accused of Duplicity.

Boston, July 19.—The autopsy of Dr. Celia Adams, who, according to the police, poisoned herself yesterday a few hours before her fiancée, Dr. Eldridge Atwood, shot and probably fatally wounded Dr. Wilfred Harris, was regarded today as likely to have an important bearing on the motive of the crime as explained by Atwood. Atwood, a youth of 23 years, was arraigned in court this morning and in default of $15,000, was committed to jail for further hearing on July 28. The proceedings were brief. The prisoner was not represented by counsel and did not plead.

The version of the cause of the shooting given by Atwood was scouted by Dr. Harris during a lucid period. He referred to his assailant as a "young fool." The wounded man's statement was stoutly supported by many friends. Dr. Harris at noon was very low.

Both Miss Adams, who was 27 years of age, and Atwood had been pupils at the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy, of which Dr. Harris was president, and according to mutual acquaintances, he had counseled the young man against marrying a girl so much his senior. Francis F. Adams, the father of the girl, stated that he also opposed the match.

Late last night Medical Examiner Magrath communicated with the district attorney's office which approved an autopsy. There were indications that the woman had died from an overdose of a drug self-administered, as she was found dying in her office. Dr. Harris is described by medical acquaintances as standing high in his profession and socially.

Geduldig May Have Temporary Place In Prosecutor's Chair

As Prosecuting Attorney A. L. DeLaney will go on his vacation Monday and Assistant Prosecutor E. Earle Garlick is now at Tobyhanna, Pa., with the Yale battery, Judge F. A. Bartlett of the city court said this morning that he would appoint a special assistant prosecutor to act while they are away but refused to say who would be appointed. Rumor mentions the names of Attorney Abe S. Geduldig.

Though he had no private cases in court this morning, Attorney Geduldig was present during the session and it was hinted that he was there to watch the prosecutions and that he will probably prosecute one or two days this week for experience before Prosecutor DeLaney leaves the city.

OBITUARY

FLORENCE C. DEIL

Florence C. wife of William C. Deil, died yesterday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Marshall, 154 William street, after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Deil was 23 years of age and had lived in this city for a number of years. She is survived by her husband, her parents and two brothers.

ANNABELLE HALL CURTIS

The funeral of Annabelle Hall Curtis, of 580 Kossuth street, who died in Conway, N. H., was largely attended at 2:30 this afternoon from St. Paul's Episcopal church. Rev. Benjamin Root, rector of the church, conducted the services. Burial was in Mountain Grove cemetery.

FRANCIS J. MCCORMICK

The funeral of Francis J. McCormick of 88 Clinton avenue, was held privately this morning from the undertaking parlors of Michael J. Gannon at 1053 Broad street. A regular high mass sung at St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock by Rev. Thomas J. Kelley, was attended by hundreds of friends of the young man. The church choir sang the responses to the mass, and at its conclusion, "Some Sweet Day," The floral pieces were of great beauty and number, occupying two coaches of the cortege. The employees of the Remington Arms & Ammunition Co., where Mr. McCormick worked, sent several handsome floral tributes. The bearers were: E. J. Kelly, James and Christopher Rickard, William Cronan, Michael Sweeney and William Flanagan. Father Kelley read the committal services at the grave in St. Michael's cemetery.

Dr. Garlick Returns From Camp at Nogales

Dr. George B. Garlick, who went to Nogales, Ariz., with Battery B, is now at Niantic. He completed his assignment in Nogales, and waited orders, which, not forthcoming, he returned to Niantic. He doesn't know yet whether he will be mustered out or sent to Tobyhanna, Pa.

Dr. Garlick said that the first two days the boys were in Nogales the rain poured incessantly. They had just arrived when the first rain in long time made its visit. That night they slept under very uncomfortable conditions.

H. Snowden Marshall Must Answer Charges

New York, July 19.—The writ of habeas corpus issued by United States district Attorney H. Snowden Marshall to prevent his removal to Washington to answer for alleged contempt of the House of Representatives was dismissed today by Federal Judge Hand. Mr. Marshall was remanded to the custody of Robert B. Gordon, sergeant at arms of the House.

Why the Mill End Sale is a success.

When a man or a business or an event is successful, there is some good reason. That reason is usually worth knowing.

The Mill End Sale is a success because of its values. They are the prime reason.

But there are other reasons. Mill End success is due to the combining of values with quantities; to the offering of large varieties; to the keeping of every promise; to the selling of only worthy merchandise; to the big supplies of seasonable things.

All these things make the Mill End Sale a success. It could not be as big as it is, if any one of them were lacking. But the biggest factor of all is the Mill End value.

Friends the store has won the last six months may look askance at the Mill End Sale. They do not know it by test. They may judge by other sales they have seen.

To do that would be unwise. The Mill End Sale can be judged by no other selling event. It is entirely different from all. There is just exactly one Howland Mill End Sale. It offers nothing but dependable wares and always offers them at a saving.

A yellow Mill End price ticket never tells a lie. It always points out at saving.

Every man or woman who buys at the Mill End Sale saves money, picks from splendid varieties, gets worthy merchandise.

And nobody is expected to keep a thing unless thoroughly satisfied. We give money back during the Mill End Sale with the promptness and cheerfulness that mark this store all through the year.

If you do not already know the Mill End Sale personally, get acquainted—and share in its values!

LOCAL BRIEFS

Coroner John J. Phelan said this morning that he had not yet decided whether he would investigate the death of Monogio Francesco, who was cut to pieces in a dough mixer in an East Bridgeport bakery, yesterday.

Harry Perlmutter of 767 Broad St. put his jitney bus in the garage last night after doing a successful day's business and was expecting to go out early this morning but to his dismay found that someone had stripped the machine of the four tires on the wheels and an extra one on the rear of the machine.

A large sum of money that was found on Main street at the foot of Arch street on July 10 is at police headquarters and will be given the owner if he proves the property.

George Long of 311 Howard avenue fell down a flight of stairs at his home at an early hour this morning and suffered a lacerated chin and probable fracture of the skull. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital by Dr. E. B. Weldon of the emergency corps.

Word was received at police headquarters today that Lewis Stephens, whose father resides in this city, was killed yesterday in Cleveland by the Nickel Plate express. No other information regarding the youth was contained in the despatch and the authorities ask that if the father is in this city, for him to communicate with them.

A mattress that Mrs. Laurine Chernik of 473 Lafayette street was cleaning with benzine this morning caught fire and other occupants of the house rushed across the street to No. 9 engine house to call the firemen. The damage was slight.

MATTY SAYS HE IS WILLING TO MANAGE CINCINNATI REDS

New York, July 20.—Although the deal that is to send Christy Mathewson to Cincinnati as manager of the Reds has not been completed, "the old master" has signified his willingness to try his hand at running Garry Herrmann's team. "I shall naturally miss New York," says Big Six, "but I am willing and, I might say, even anxious to manage a team. If everything goes through satisfactorily I will be glad to take charge of Cincinnati."

Flaming Swords.
"Flaming swords" were swords with a wavy or flame-like edge, generally used for decorative purposes. The Duke of Burgundy carried swords of this sort, and they were worn in England till the reign of William III.

GUARD THE TONGUE.

It is a wise thing to keep a guard upon one's tongue. There is an old saying that all misfortune comes not from heaven, but from the mouth. The man who is careful what he says inures little misfortune, even as the man who is careful what he says and drinks can keep away sickness.—Elken.

Concocted.

"Do you go in for aviation?" he asked the beauty of the high class girls' school.
"No; not for aviation. One goes in for sea bathing, but for aviation one goes up."—Chicago Herald.

"Pardon my intrusion," said the caller. "I see you are busy."
"Take a good look at me," answered the man at the desk. "I'm so busy I haven't a minute to spare."
"I only want ten seconds of your time."
"You've had 'em. Good day."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

In Naval Terms.

"That is the rhinoceros. See his armor-plating?"
"Oh, and what's this?"
"The rhinoceros."
"Good. He's got a periscope."—Kansas City Journal.

Holding by the Head.

A perfidious feat is climbing the "Giraffe traverse" on Scafell in the lake district of England. What such climbing means may be suggested by the remark of an authority: "There is an extremely welcome back of the head held on a traverse on one of the lake cliffs. The climber has more than once been useful on the Napes Needle."—London Standard.

His Hat Shower.

Remembering that clothes would come easily to some distinguished men, notably the Duke of Devonshire. The latter, being with such affection to one old hat which he always wore at the most then four and twenty ladies consoled to add him four and twenty hats of the same style on the same day. It is not recorded whether he wore any of them.—London Standard.

DON'T FOOL YOURSELF.

There's just one person you can fool all the time. You can't fool the public, nor God, nor your family, nor the children, but you can fool yourself every day in the week.—Corra Harris.
